Description:

Supplier diversity creates a network of business partners such as subcontractors, contractors, suppliers, and other professional services that help increase revenue, innovations, and adds economic value to local communities by encouraging the growth of diverse business suppliers and opportunities in the water industry.

This is achieved by doing business with women, minorities, service-disabled veterans, LGBT-owned, and disabled vendors. Supplier diversity helps create jobs that will also uplift the communities where those businesses are located.

In partnership with California Water Association (CWA), this webinar will review what steps to take to partner with private water companies, upcoming opportunities for partnership, and examples of various success stories. CWA companies represent over 90 utilities across the state, serving more than 6 million customers.

Time will also be allowed at the end for Q&A, register today!
